RIBio | Growing Our Life Sciences Economy

2026

Sponsorship Opportunities

Empowering Life Sciences in Rhode Island

RI Bio is a nonprofit organization and Rhode Island's leading life sciences trade association, dedicated to advancing biotechnology, healthcare, and related industries across the state. Our mission is to build a thriving ecosystem that supports individual members with a robust platform for learning, collaborating, and networking. Additionally, our advocacy efforts, educational offerings, and cost-saving program enable member companies to drive innovation forward.

Program Highlights

RI Bio hosts events year-round, attracting prominent speakers and attendees from across the industry. As 2026 approaches, we are seeking to partner with companies interested in building visibility through support of our programming.

Sponsorship Opportunities

Three levels of sponsorship are available for 2026. Company recognition for contributions will be provided for ALL sponsors on the RI Bio website and at Life Sciences Tuesdays. Additional recognition in emails/postings and at events will be provided for Platinum and Gold sponsors as indicated below.
